

DAWN DANCE TAKES COLLEGE GIRLS' FANCY,

MISS VIRGINIA WHITEHEAD.

Oakland, Cal.—"The dawn dance," an innovation created and practiced here daily by Miss Virginia Whitehead as a beauty aid and early morning tonic, promises to become the fad among the fair co-eds of the University of California, of which she is a graduate.

Every morning Miss Whitehead climbs to the roof garden of her home and goes through a maze of graceful terpsichorean intricacies—preferring her "beauty dance" instead of the "beauty sleep" of her less active sister seekers after physical attractiveness.

"Dancing in the fresh air of a sunny morning is the best possible beauty lotion," she declares.

Miss Whitehead won distinction in college dramatics wherein she took leading roles, and since then has been a devoted student of aesthetic dances of all kinds.

Co-ed—What tense do I use when I say, "I am beautiful?" Bold Soph—Remote past.

LOST IN THE SHUFFLE

Mona Lisa.

Thaw.

Dorothy Arnold.

Saturday holidays.

Strawberry shortcake.

And also Victoriana Huerta, erst-while Provisional President of Mexico.—Philadelphia Public Ledger,